

Strategic Places You Can Put Tracts:

(This is NOT an exhaustive list by any means)

- In bill envelopes when you send in your bill payment to the company
- Credit card offer envelopes (don't sign up for the credit card though!) - they provide postage paid envelopes, so it's free!
- Inside the videos that you return to the video store or Library Books
- Inside books and magazines that you DON'T buy
- In Dr.'s offices on the magazine tables and in the magazines themselves
- In Hospitals near the magazines (throw out all the JW Watchtower garbage)
- Leave a tract on the table at the restaurant or with the bill- make sure you leave a GOOD TIP!
- ATM machines or Pay at the Pump Gas Pumps, in the credit card slot- I recommend using a credit card type tract, or another business card size tract, since they fit perfectly into the credit card slots without getting stuck
- Bank drive thru- after transaction, leave a tract in the transport tube for the next customer to read
- Letters or Cards to family members, friends, etc. for a birthday, anniversary, Christmas, get well, etc.
- Near the salt and pepper shakers or other condiments in restaurants
- At the airport in all the seats where people aren't sitting in
- At payphones (they are hard to find these days)
- Near the vending machines or candy machines
- On an airplane in a magazine or in the magazine holder or in the bathroom
- On a park bench
- On a train, subway or in a cab
- Movie Theatre cup holders
